

Saloon

It has been ten years since Butch has robbed the bank in the mining town of To Hell You Ride, Colorado. After leaving Sundance at the saloon, Butch goes to check out the bank. Upon walking in, he cannot believe what he sees. The bank has a time lock safe, electrified bars on the windows and doors, a telephone, and four armed guards with pump shotguns. He turns to one of the guard and asks, "What happened to the old bank? It was beautiful." The guard replies, "Yes, but people kept robbing it." Butch replies, "That's a small price to pay for beauty."

Well

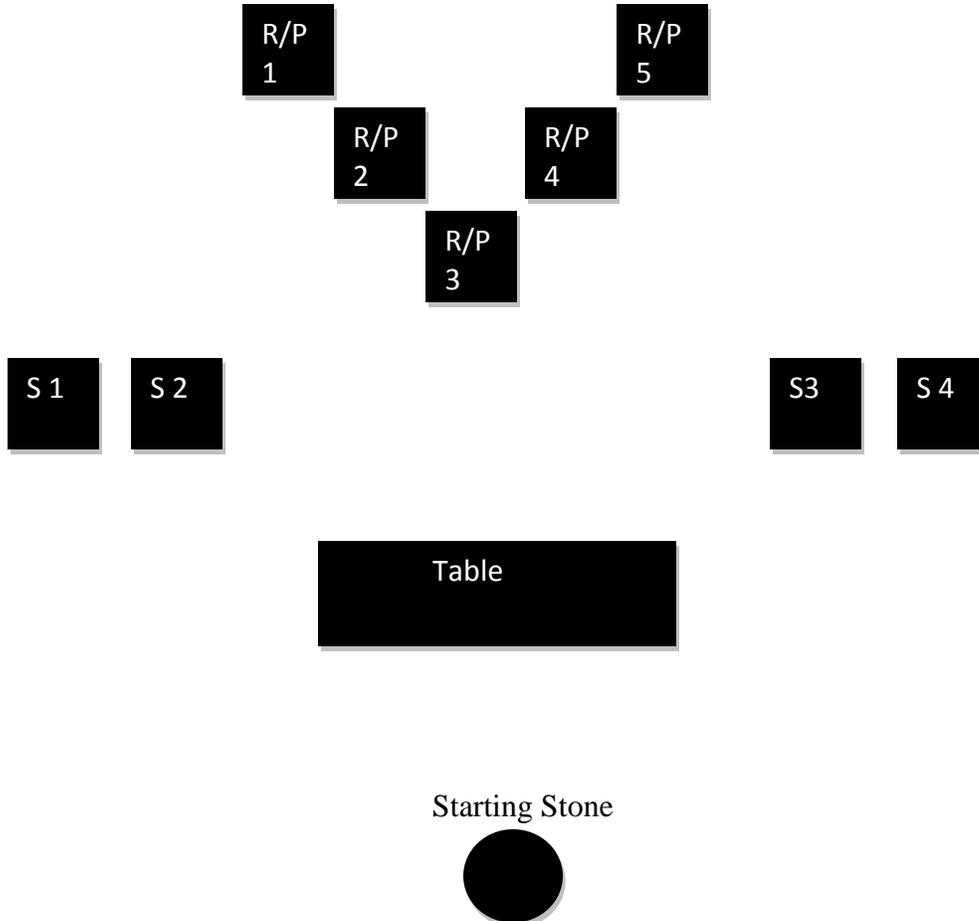

On the long ride back to Hole In The Wall, Butch tells Sundance, “We need to go somewhere that doesn’t have all the 20th century inventions that are making a life of crime so hard. I’ve been reading a lot about South America. You wouldn’t believe what they’re digging out of the ground down there; gold, silver, emeralds.” Sundance replies, “Just keep thinking Butch. That’s what you do best.”

Fort

After returning to Hole In The Wall, Butch finds Harvey Logan, AKA Kid Curry, has taken over. Butch tells Harvey, "Everybody knows this is my gang." Harvey replies, "You always said any of us could challenge you." Butch replies, "That's because I thought no one would." Harvey says, "What will it be, Guns or knives?" Butch replies, "I don't want to shoot you full of holes." Harvey replies, "Knives it is." Butch says, "First let's get the rules straight." Harvey replies, "Rules? There's no rules in a knife fight." Butch then kicks Harvey between the legs and says, "If there's no rules, somebody count 1, 2, 3, go."

Jail

After Butch hears Harvey's plan to rob the Union Pacific Flyer, he thinks it is a good one, so they carry it out. After the wild bunch robs the train, they are in the saloon of the nearest town celebrating before the sheriff raises a posse. After several drinks, Sundance tells Butch that he is going looking for a woman and that "I'm not picky either. As long as she is tall, slim, dark hair and eyes, a good dancer, doesn't nag, and has a good job."

Boot Hill

After robbing the Flyer on its East Bound run, the plan was to rob it again 2 days later on its West Bound run. After stopping the train, Butch tricks the guard, Woodstock, into opening the mail car. Butch sees a new and bigger safe and asks, "Why did you have to go and do that?" Woodstock replies, "You blew the old safe up so easy. I had to do something." Butch turns to Sundance and tells him, "We're going to need more dynamite; a lot more dynamite." After blowing the safe, along with the entire train car, Sundance asks, "Think you used enough dynamite there, Butch?"

Livery

After the Union Pacific Railroad hires the Super Posse to track down and kill the Wild Bunch, Sundance finally agrees that it is time to go somewhere. Butch, Sundance and Etta Place travel to New York City. There they board a steam ship to South America, then travel by train to the heart of the mining country. After getting off the train in the poorest looking city they have ever seen, a very angry Sundance tells Butch, "I can't believe I let you talk me into this." Butch replies, "All of Bolivia can't look like this." Sundance replies, "For all you know people could travel for hundreds of miles just to see this. This could be the garden spot of the entire country." Butch turns to Etta and says, "He'll feel a lot better after he's robbed a couple of banks."
