John Wayne has been credited with creating the term “The Big C”. He first took on the disease in 1964 when he had his left lung removed and 4 of his ribs. He died from stomach cancer in 1979.

THE LIVERY

Roy had Trigger and Gene had Champion but John Wayne wasn't the horsemen that either one of those two fellas were. Wayne's horses, in the movies, were almost always big horses and throughout his film career he used several different regular mounts, including "Duke", "Starlight", "Banner", "Steel", "Alamo", "Dollar", "Beau" and "Cochise".

NEXT - Move to the center table and with shotgun knockdown any remaining knockdown targets.
The minimum shot requirement is 2 rounds fired.

NOTE - misses on the last 2 rounds with pistols or rifle do not count as misses unless they are not fired -or- they are fired at knockdowns and not made up with shotgun. If you shoot P1 or P2 or R1 or R2 with the last 2 rounds it is NOT a procedural. The instructions said ANY target.
